The Confident A-Arms Race Can Be Halted

Reduction Viewed As 'Indispensable' But Slow Process

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 23 (P)—President Eisenhower today expressed new confidence the East-West atomic weapons race can be halted. He pictured an arms reduction as "indispensable" but likely to be a slow process.

Stassen Heads For London

After the conference at the Augusta National Golf Club, Eisenhower's vacation headquarters, Stassen flew back to Washington for a final session with Secretary of State Dulles then headed for London for United Nations disarmament talks resuming there tomorrow.

Those talks, which started last month and recessed over the Easter weekend, have given United States officials cautious hope that the Soviet Union finally may be about ready to take a small, first step toward disarmament.

Talks "At Halfway Stage"

Stassen declined to hold a news conference after his meeting with Eisenhower. He refused to meet with newsmen, the White House said, because the London negotiations are "only at the halfway stage" with plenty of work still ahead.

But, a statement by James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, encouraged the Stassen-headed U. S. delegation to London to "follow through thoroughly" in serious efforts to win an acceptable agreement.

Texas Flood Threat Mounts

DALLAS, April 23 (P)—Swollen streams boiled threateningly across parts of soggy Texas late today following torrential rains.

A tornado and violent thunderstorm warning for much of central and east Texas expired at 5 p. m. with no tornado damage reported.

One tornado was reported at Bryan but it didn't touch the ground. Almost two inches of rain fell in 30 minutes, along with hail and high winds at Huntsville.

Torrential rains doused north, south Texas, already water-logged by heavy weekend downpours.

The Rio Grande crested at 11 feet at Laredo. The International Boundary Commission said the new crest would put at least 35,000 additional acre feet of water in Falcon Reservoir.

At Waco, where four inches of rain fell within four hours, an estimated 600 persons living in the low-lying areas were evacuated or left their homes as swirling flood waters covered streets and rose in houses. Most returned later and started cleaning up.

Egypt Canal Plan Announcement Seen

CAIRO, April 23 (P)—The news-paper Alkhaira predicted today Egypt will announce within 48 hours a Suez Canal plan which will include an advisory organization formed from world shipping companies.

Alkhaira's diplomatic correspondent added that Egypt would favor looking to the World Court for arbitration in the case of disputes.

The correspondent said U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold had discussed this plan at a meeting with Egyptian U. N. Delegate Omar Loutfi.

IN DARING RESCUE — An American pilot, Henry Bush (above), 42, told yesterday how he and another American flew into Red China this month to rescue the son of a wealthy Chinese businessman from Communist hands. Cost Of Living Hits New High, End Not In Sight

WASHINGTON, April 23 (P)—The nation's living costs continued their steady gradual rise in March and hit a record for the seventh straight month.

Reporting this today, the government said the end is not in sight and a further increase for April is in prospect. The Labor Department said its index rose two-tenths of one percent from mid-February to mid-March to 118.9 per cent of the 1947-49 base period. This is 3.7 per cent higher than March last year, when the current living cost spiral began.

1,400,000 To Get Pay Hike

Higher March living costs mean pay raises for some 1,400,000 workers whose pay rates are partly adjusted periodically to changes in the official government index.

About one million workers in the railroad industry will get pay boosts of three cents an hour beginning May 1. Other groups of workers in the electrical, airplane and textile manufacturing industries, as well as scattered other industries, also will get raises of one or two cents an hour. These amount to an annual pay raise of about 75 million dollars for the affected workers.

The Commerce Department surveyed general economic conditions in the first three months of 1957 and reported some record statistics.

Americans Earn, Spend More

It said today that Americans earned more and spent more in the first quarter than ever before. Employment was high, wages were rising, business sales were at record levels and consumers were buying more goods and services.

H. E. Riley, price division chief of the Labor Department, said food and other major consumer cost categories probably will increase for April.

Lost Girl, 3, Found

MEANOOK, Alta., April 23 (P)—A search party today found a 3-year-old girl who had been lost for 24 hours in the bush area near this community in the Athabasca district 85 miles north of Edmonton. Her condition was described as fair.

Gladys, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Pusher, wandered away from her father's farm. Approximately 150 persons took part in the search.

Americans Fly Over Bamboo Curtain To Rescue Chinese Youth From Reds

TOKYO, April 23 (P)—An American pilot told today how he and another American flew deep into Red China this month and rescued the son of a wealthy Chinese businessman from Communist hands.

Henry Bush, 42, a mild-spoken graying man of 19 years flying, related the details of the eight-hour adventure into Hunan Province and out. The rescue of the boy, who had been held as hostage, was accomplished without incident.

The story, as Bush told it, had all the elements a movie producer would want—a beautiful Chinese girl go-between, a secret meeting at a Chinese restaurant, delivery of a map with the flight plan to a hotel room in Hong Kong, a midnight boat trip to Portuguese Macao, and a dawn takeoff.

After the adventure, Bush said, a Chinese he presumed to be the father presented him with a gold

U.S. To Lay Suez Issue Before U.N.

Dulles Signals End Of Efforts To Sway Egypt

WASHINGTON, April 23 (P)—Secretary of State Dulles disclosed today the United States will center world attention on the Suez question once again by laying it before the United Nations Security Council, possibly tomorrow or Thursday.

Dulles thus signaled the end of quiet U. S. efforts during the past month to win Egyptian acceptance of the U. N. formula for running the waterway.

"Now that the canal is generally open for traffic, it seems to us that there should be more general public knowledge," Dulles told his news conference.

"It does seem to us appropriate that there should be an early report made to the Security Council and perhaps through the Security Council to the world."

Dulles added, the United States has "no objection" to U. S. ships entering the canal—provided they pay tolls under protest.

U. S. Report Expected

At the U. N., the U. S. delegation was conferring with friendly members of the 11-nation Security Council on when to call a Council meeting. Diplomatic sources said this was considered a "propitious" time for a U. S. report on its negotiations with Egypt.

Dulles emphasized that the United States would request no U. N. action, but simply file a report.

He indicated he expects Egypt to make a final answer soon to the efforts of U. S. negotiators to win changes in the Egyptian plan for running the canal. But he declined to be drawn out on what he thinks Egypt's response will be.

More Binding Pact Sought

The United States wants the Egyptian plan for canal operations to be of a more binding character to insure that the canal will not become embroiled in the troubled politics of the Middle East. This is a major aim of the set of principles which were drafted in the U. N. during last year's efforts to win a Suez agreement.

In calling on American shipping to pay tolls under protest, Dulles said this would be protection against possible claims by the company which used to run the canal before the Egyptian government seized it last July 26.

Weather Balloon Used In Rescue Of Steeplejack

CLEVELAND, April 23 (P)—A Buffalo steeplejack was stranded on top of a 250-foot-high smoke stack at a Republic Steel Corp. plant for six hours today. He was rescued by sending a small weather balloon up inside the chimney, carrying him a rope.

Wallace Kanally, 54, lost the rope and bosun's chair by which he traveled to the top of the chimney in the Cleveland Flats area off Independence Rd.

That was about 11 a. m., and he sat perched on a 10-inch-wide ledge at the top of the stack through a heavy thunderstorm.

The 30-inch diameter, helium-filled balloon — borrowed from the Cleveland Weather Bureau — was sent up inside the chimney. It carried a small string to which a rope was attached. Kanally pulled up the rope, fastened it to the top of the chimney and threw one end down to a ladder which workmen had raised to the 190-foot level. He slid down 60 feet of rope to reach this ladder.

"Bankrupt" Of Ideas

News executives whom he did not identify told him that such a plan was impractical at present, Dulles said.

Dulles said at present these news executives and the State Department are both "bankrupt" of any idea of how to solve the problem within the limits he has prescribed.

He also would not disclose the name of his companion because the man is employed by an airline in Southeast Asia and is married to a Chinese girl.

"He is afraid of possible reprisals if his name is linked to this," said Bush.

Bush also said he did not know the name of the Chinese businessman.

Flying at altitudes of 500 to 1,000 feet most of the way, the plane threaded through valleys to avoid detection, and landed on an unused dirt airstrip about 350 miles north of Macao.

He said the unauthorized flight was made April 5 from the Por-

Everybody Gets Into The Act

A free-for-all brawl reaches its peak at the West Los Angeles home of Peruvian singer Yma Sumac and her estranged husband, Moises Vivanco. It started when private detectives accompanying Miss Sumac tried to enter the house with her yesterday to pick up some of her belongings and two maids joined

Qualified Offer On China Travel Made By Dulles

WASHINGTON, April 23 (P)—Secretary of State Dulles made a qualified offer today to allow "a strictly limited number" of responsible newsmen to visit Red China in order to give the American people first-hand information on conditions there.

He laid down this policy at a news conference but attached these conditions:

1. Any such "one-shot experiment" must not be permitted to weaken the government ban on travel by other Americans to the Red-held mainland.
2. Prior approval by "leading figures in the newspaper world" is necessary before the State Department acts.

Possible Third Condition

Dulles in answer to a barrage of questions also implied a possible third condition — such visits by American reporters must be tied to visits to the United States by Chinese Communist newsmen.

The secretary talked about the long-standing ban after a reporter noted The Associated Press board of directors called anew yesterday for the right to send qualified newsmen to report on conditions in Red China.

Obviously anticipating the question, he reported he has already suggested a plan which news executives have rejected — "although they made that suggestion themselves originally." Dulles reported this plan would have involved giving passports to a limited number of reporters who "would go on a sort of pool basis," that is as representatives of all news media.

"Bankrupt" Of Ideas

News executives whom he did not identify told him that such a plan was impractical at present, Dulles said.

Dulles said at present these news executives and the State Department are both "bankrupt" of any idea of how to solve the problem within the limits he has prescribed.

Turncoat Marries His First Cousin

CARBONDALE, Ill., April 23 (P)—Arlie Pate, former Carbondale turncoat GI of the Korean War who went over to the Communists and was asked to leave his home when he returned, has married his first cousin, his father says.

Pate disclosed his marriage in St. Louis to Miss Barbara Jones of St. Louis last week. But Arlie's father said yesterday that the bride is the daughter of his mother's twin sister.

"My God, he's married his cousin," said Daniel H. Pate, Arlie's father, when shown a news story of the marriage.

Missouri law forbids first cousins to marry. But L. L. Bornschein, St. Louis County assistant prosecuting attorney, said his office would not take action "unless somebody gave us evidence."

President, Mitchell Will Discuss Union Fund Security Laws

WASHINGTON, April 23 (P)—Secretary of Labor Mitchell will confer with President Eisenhower Thursday on possible new laws to prevent misuse of union funds.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said today that Mitchell has been called to Augusta, Ga., where Eisenhower is vacationing. He said they will talk over the possibility of legislation to deal with developments such as have been turned up by the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee.

The committee, in another development today, announced it will hear public testimony here tomorrow from two alleged prostitutes and a deputy sheriff from Portland, Ore.

This is to be a one-day chapter of the committee's study of vice in Portland and allegations that some Teamsters Union officials were pals and partners of underworld characters and officials accused of corruption.

Thor Missile Test Again Unsuccessful

WASHINGTON, April 23 (P)—The Air Force was reported today to have made another unsuccessful attempt to fire a Thor 1,500-mile-range ballistic missile.

The results were described as little better than in an attempted launching last January, when the rocket rose but a few feet, then fell back in flames.

Reports were that in a launching attempt at Patrick Air Force Base, Fla., last Thursday or Friday the Thor was found to be defective and had to be destroyed.

No details were available. Air Force headquarters declined comment on the reported misfiring. A Pentagon press officer said that in the test program now under way at Patrick there are "quite a number of rocket and missile firings all the time, and we are not permitted to confirm or deny specific firings."

Baboon Tipsy When It Attacked Tot, Suit Claims

BATON ROUGE, La., April 23 (P)—The parents of a child attacked last August by an escaped baboon have filed suit for $40,000 damages, claiming the animal was tipsy from drinking.

Mr. and Mrs. Avalon Chaney brought suit in District Court yesterday against Joe Barbary, operator of a used car lot.

Their petition, on behalf of their 4½-year-old daughter, Kay, said the baboon had been chained at the lot as an advertising attraction but it broke loose.

Police killed the animal after it attacked the child.

The Chaney petition charges Barbary was negligent in that he did not have proper facilities to keep the animal, and allowed it to be given intoxicants.

Wild Free-For-All Erupts In Family Of Yma Sumac

LOS ANGELES, April 23 (P)—A singer, now a maid at the Vivanco home, screaming, hair-pulling, pushing and slapping free-for-all took place today in the embattled family of Peruvian singer Yma Sumac.

The latest fracas came on the heels of complaints by her estranged husband, Moises Vivanco, that he was attacked and threatened last night by two detectives hired by his wife. The detectives and Miss Sumac denied the charges.

The fight erupted at the West Los Angeles home of Vivanco. Police reported the trouble started after Miss Sumac appeared at the home with three private detectives to pick up some of her belongings. She filed suit for divorce last Wednesday, charging mental cruelty.

A reporter who was there said Miss Sumac went into the den and started a shouting argument with Esmila Zeballos, an 18-year-old

Bulganin Hopes For Agreement On Middle East

LONDON, April 23 (P)—Soviet Premier Bulganin has sent a personal letter to Prime Minister Macmillan expressing hope for agreement on all issues in the Middle East. He also promised to stop nuclear tests if the West will.

Moscow radio tonight broadcast details of the letter delivered to Macmillan three days ago. Reliable informants in London said it was 8,000-words long.

The letter appeared to be geared to the new Soviet campaign to depict Moscow as a peace-loving friend of the Arab world.

"Taking into consideration the complexity of the existing problems," Bulganin wrote, "one should, with the object of improving and normalizing the situation in the Middle East, immediately take such steps on which it is possible to reach an agreement."

Bulganin said the possibilities of a settlement have not been exhausted and added:

"I do not lose the hope that, given the good will on the part of the governments of the states concerned, agreement can be reached on all disputed issues."

Bulganin said the Soviet Union believes "the great powers would make a big contribution to the normalization of the situation in the Middle East if they denounced the use of force as the means of settling the unsolved problems of that area."

"One may differ in the views on some questions or others, for instance, connected with the use of the Suez Canal," Bulganin continued, "but it is impermissible that disputed issues are settled by armed force, that reckless actions of some states or others, still brandishing arms, imperil the peace of the area."

The letter was delivered at about the same time the Soviet Union was handing notes to the United States, Britain and France urging renunciation of force in the Middle East.

These notes also proposed to scrap all Western military bases in the area as part of a general settlement. The West considered the notes a propaganda gesture.

Khalidi Fights Off Demands He Step Down

Demonstrations Break Out; Strike Called For Today

AMMAN, Jordan, April 23 (P)—This sorely beset kingdom was plunged today into its second political crisis in two weeks. An ugly turn of events threatened.

Premier Hussein Khalidi at a stormy conference fought off demands of all political parties that he and his Cabinet resign.

Khalidi, a man inclined toward the West and backed by King Hussein, has been in office only a week.

Leftist elements called a general strike for tomorrow.

Small anti-Khalidi demonstrations broke out in the Arab section of Jerusalem and two other west Jordan cities, Jerico and Nablus.

The Moslem Brotherhood clashed with Communists in Jericho. The new crisis arose from charges that young King Hussein's palace was in league with the British and Americans in plots against Jordan's independence and liberty.

Showdown Meeting

The charge was made Saturday by Maj. Gen. Ali Hayari, who fled to Syria and resigned as army chief of staff.

Representatives of all political parties met with Khalidi and his Cabinet of six independents and one National Socialist for a showdown.

King Hussein installed Khalidi after dismissing former Premier Suleiman Nabulsi and his Cabinet made up of pro-Egyptian and Communist factions.

Opponents of the ailing Khalidi demanded that a new Cabinet be formed with all parties represented. This would bring Communists back into the Cabinet.

In the midst of the turbulent meeting, Interior Minister Said Mufli emerged from the conference room and told reporters "the Cabinet has decided to resign and Premier Khalidi will see the King to tender his resignation."

This report was picked up by Cairo radio. Three and one-half hours after the report was flashed around the world, Khalidi emerged and denied the government had quit.

Negotiations Continue

The elderly Jordanian statesman, who suffers from stomach ulcers, said negotiations still were going on in an attempt to settle the crisis.

Khalidi made his statement after he, Mufti and Education Minister Fawzi Mulki went to see the King.

A spokesman in the Israeli Foreign Ministry in Jerusalem reported most of Jordan's 30,000-man army had been confined to barracks for two or three days because Hussein feared he could not rely on the loyalty of all units. His power largely depends on the loyalty of Bedouin units.)

Jordan was under strict censorship on outgoing news dispatches. All Egyptian and Syrian magazines were being confiscated.

Selwyn Lloyd Asks Divorce

LONDON, April 23 (P)—Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd asked for a divorce today on grounds of adultery. He is 52 and his wife is 30.

He is the second British foreign secretary to sue for divorce. The first was Anthony Eden, who later became prime minister. Lloyd has been among Conservative party prominent mentioned as a possible prime minister. A divorce — in contrast to not long ago in Britain — would not count against him.

Elizabeth Lloyd is not defending the suit, lawyers for Lloyd said. The petition is due to be heard in London before June 7.

The Lloyds were married six years ago and have a 4-year-old daughter.

They parted last year soon after Mrs. Lloyd — a former stage star — was involved in an automobile accident. In it she sustained minor disfigurement.

Lloyd has been foreign secretary 17 months.

Named as co-respondent in his petition was Martin Lubbock who was not further identified.

The Daily Telegraph, which has close government connections, said Lubbock was 35 and the son of a chairman of a county council.

The Lloyds' separation was first noted when the foreign secretary's mother began to act as hostess at official receptions given at his government residence.

BALTIMORE, April 23 (P)—The Glenn L. Martin Co. announced today that sales for the first three months of 1957 amounted to $98,748,234, a 93 per cent increase over sales of approximately $51 million dollars for the first quarter of 1956.

Net income for the first quarter of this year was reported at $2,009,335, equivalent to 69 cents per share. Comparable figures a year ago were $1,586,725 and 56 cents per share.

France Faces Financial Crisis Despite Prosperity

PARIS, April 23 (P)—At the time of its greatest prosperity, France is facing one of its most severe financial crises.

The trouble, experts agree, is that the nation is living beyond its means. The government already has started the belt-tightening process, but there are fears that the limited government action may not be quick enough or severe enough to avoid trouble.

Factories are running at a record clip and the production rate is still going up, unemployment is almost nonexistent, stores are bulging with merchandise and, despite gasoline rationing, traffic jams have never been so bad in Paris. But France must import heavily to keep this prosperity going, and is running out of money to pay for imports.

The figures tell the story. In December 1955, France had current balances of $1,120,000,000 in gold and dollars. By Feb. 28, 1957, this operating reserve had dropped to $178,571,350. The nation's deficit in the European payments union in March was almost 94 million dollars, trimming the margin in working funds still more.

A private loan was floated in the United States for a million dollars to help pay for oil imports after the Suez crisis. In addition, France has drawn 160 million dollars from a credit of 262½ million opened with the International Monetary Fund.

There is a strategic reserve which has not been touched. The bank of France holds 860 million dollars as a backing for the currency. This fund is considered almost untouchable.

Economists have been coming up with plenty of answers, not always the same answers. But almost all agree that these are among the principal trouble-makers:

The severe winter of 1955-56 which killed many crops and forced France to import more agricultural products than ever before;

The war in Algeria, which has drained off manpower from production, and called for internal consumption of products that should have gone for export and forced importations such as helicopters;

The Suez crisis, which required oil purchases from the dollar area; and General high living.

The government has decided to cut down its military forces—without reducing the size of its 400,000-man army in Algeria. By slashing the term of service for draftees to 24 months, about 100,000 men will be lopped off the service rolls. The term had been running as long as 30 months. This is expected to cut about 200 million dollars from the military payroll.

Further reductions in military expenses will be made by canceling orders for equipment not needed urgently in Algeria, or by delaying delivery dates beyond 1957.

Finance Minister Paul Ramadier announced recently that all coal miners serving their draft period were being released. He estimated this would save 44 to 50 million dollars a year in imports of coal from the United States.

The government also has reduced the amount of money available to French tourists visiting foreign countries from $200 to $100 a year. It slapped a 15 per cent tax on all imports except raw materials and fuels. This tax had already been in effect, at a lower rate, for some products. By raising the rate and making it general, the government hopes to discourage imports.

Ramadier has reported that the French export curve is starting upward again and that this should start to show up soon in the balance of payments.

To give an example to the nation on the need for restricting internal consumption, the government is cutting its own budget by 250 billion francs—$714,285,100—this year. Part of the cuts come from the military budget and part from the civil. Road construction is expected to be slowed, the start on the tunnel under Mont Blanc to Italy may be delayed and investment programs in the nationalized industries will be trimmed.

An effort is being made to get a loan from the U. S. Export-Import Bank to help pay for commercial jet transports which Air France has ordered. The nationalized airline was not able to order as many as it wanted because of restrictions by the Finance Ministry.

The bank discount rate has been raised and restrictions put on installment buying as a brake on internal consumption.

The question is whether any or all of these measures will produce results quick enough to meet the present emergency.

Surgeon Stars In Sea Drama

NEW YORK, April 23 (P)—A surgeon performed a delicate major abdominal operation yesterday aboard a pitching Coast Guard cutter in the North Atlantic to save the life of the first mate of a British vessel.

The mate, Walter L. Hall, 55, was transferred to the cutter Mackinac from the British ship Thistledhu in a small boat 660 miles east of Newfoundland. Forty-mile-an-hour winds kicked up 15-foot waves at the time.

Hall had a perforated duodenal ulcer and peritonitis had set in. Senior Asst. Surgeon William B. Sheldon of the U. S. Public Health Service, assigned to the Mackinac, operated immediately.

Laconically, the cutter radioed its base here that Hall's condition was "satisfactory."

The drama began Sunday night when the 5,630-ton Thistledhu radioed the Mackinac that Hall was suffering from severe abdominal pains.

When he was told of Hall's previous ulcer trouble, Sheldon knew what he had to do.

The cutter left its patrol of Weather Station Charlie, 700 by the Assn. of the Bar of the miles east of Newfoundland, and City of New York. The study is being made under a grant given by the Fund for the Republic, Inc.

Passport Study

NEW YORK, April 23 (P)—A study of procedures in connection with the issuance, denial and withdrawal of passports is to be made by the Assn. of the Bar of the City of New York. The study is being made under a grant given by the Fund for the Republic, Inc.

Nerveless Angler

MONTREAL, April 23 (P)—When 20-year-old Frank Rock went fishing in the St. Lawrence River, his outboard motor flooded and stalled, the steering cable broke and his tiny boat was sucked into the Lachine Rapids and disappeared.

Police, fearing the worst, called on Rock's father, who said: "Frank? Oh, he went back fishing. He's been here and told me what a narrow escape he had."

Lucky Escape

OTTAWA, April 23 (P)—Barbara Fraser, 30, was thrown from an overturning car on the highway near here. She flew 20 feet in the air and dangled on telephone wires for eight minutes. Several ribs were broken when she hit a telephone pole crossbar in flight. But when she dropped from the wires, she suffered no further injury.

"What is the only mammal that can fly."

EXPERTS TRACE NEW COMET'S PATH — Broken lines indicate path to be taken by Comet Arend-Roland between April 25 and May 20, when it will be visible to sky-watchers, according to the American Museum-Hayden Planetarium in New York. While the comet, since its discovery by Belgian astronomers last November, has created keen interest in the astronomical world, it will not be as spectacular as hoped for. When it first appears, say experts, it will have faded to approximately the brightness of the faintest star in the Big Dipper and will be very close to the horizon in the northwest and move slightly higher in the sky each night.

Peiping Admits Tibetans Fight Control By Reds

HONG KONG, April 23 (P)—Red China acknowledged today that Tibetans are solidly opposed to attempts to communize the lofty kingdom of the Dalai Lama. It said Red-type reforms would wait five or ten years.

In the clearest policy statement yet heard by outsiders, Peiping radio quoted the Communist Chinese military commander in Lhasa as saying: "The prerequisites for peaceful reform were that the mass of the people should have the urge for reform. And those in the upper strata should support the reforms. At present these prerequisites are not sufficiently evident."

The statement, by Gen. Chang Kuo-kua, meant in effect that the two million fiercely independent Tibetans still are fighting Communist control despite almost six years of occupation by Red troops. Buddhist monks lead the opposition. They were the backroom rulers before the Reds took over in 1950-51.

But Chang made it clear the Peiping regime intends some day to carry out the Communist policies of wiping out the landlord, capitalist and politically influential classes.

Klondyke Trio Faces Charges

Trial Magistrate J. Milton Dick involved in a series of breaking and entering cases yesterday prepared 14 warrants and enterings in the Frostburg for three Klondyke youths in and Klondyke sections.

Magistrate Dick issued the warrants on Charles Edward Whetstone, 19; Thomas Baker, 18, and a 15-year-old youth.

The boys waived preliminary hearings and were ordered held under $2,500 bond each. All three of the youths were committed to Allegany County Jail.

The boys are being held for action of the October term of the Allegany County grand jury. They indicated they would request an immediate trial, Magistrate Dick said.

The judge said five warrants for breaking and entering and larceny were issued for Baker and Whetstone, and four against the 15-year-old boy.

The case was investigated by Tfc. Harry Bosley of the Maryland State Police, assisted by Tfc. Donald R. Wade and Tfc. Milton G. Hart.

The youths were apprehended by Trooper Wade and lodged in County Jail. Statements were taken Monday afternoon by James S. Getty, assistant state's attorney.

The three youths admitted they stole candy and other items from a Klondyke area tavern several weeks ago. They later took some personal things from a residence in Klondyke, including a revolver.

Last Monday the trio said they stole three chickens from a coop belonging to Mrs. Jessie May House in Klondyke. They told police they hiked with the chickens to Frostburg where they discovered two of the chickens had suffocated, so they threw the carcasses away.

Prior to this, the trio stated, they took a car in Frostburg which they later abandoned. They also admitted breaking into a Frostburg service station, taking $35 worth of merchandise. They

Condemnation Hearing Set

Hearings on motions filed by the U.S. government in the Ridgeley High School athletic field condemnation case will be heard the week of May 20 when the U. S. District Court of Northern West Virginia convenes in Elkins.

A federal jury on April 9 in Martinsburg awarded the Mineral County Board of Education $97,500 for nearly four acres of land between Ridgeley High School and the Potomac River.

Albert M. Morgan, U.S. District attorney for Northern West Virginia, who represented the government, filed two motions, one for a new trial, and another "a remittance in alternative," which asks the court to reduce the amount granted by the jury.

In any event, it is the City of Cumberland that has to pay for the acquisition of the athletic field land. Part of the property has been already used for the location of a big levee to contain the river when it floods.

Morgan said yesterday that an order was entered in U. S. District Court for Northern West Virginia paying $17,000 to another property owner figuring in the original government condemnation case.

The money will go to Mrs. Grace A. Vandegrift for five parcels of land, only one of them improved.

A third condemnation case in this original proceeding involved four tracts owned by "unknown heirs" of four persons. This case was not contested.

said they ended the spree by going fishing.

Judge Reconsiders Sentence, Places Man On Parole

Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris yesterday reconsidered the appeal of Harry Logsdon, who had been found guilty of contributing to the delinquency of a 16-year-old girl, and suspended the sentence.

Logsdon had appealed to Circuit Court from an 11-month sentence to the House of Correction which Magistrate Morris Baron imposed in Juvenile Court. Judge Harris cut this to six months last

Bond Petition Count Begins

The counting of validated signatures on the petitions calling for a referendum on the city's $500,000 bond issue started yesterday.

The approval of this action together with the setting of "ground rules" for validity of signatures was made yesterday at a conference held by Mayor Roy W. Eves, City Attorney Thomas B. Finan and City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery.

Ullery reported a card file has been made on the 3,980 names appearing on the petitions and filed alphabetically.

He was told to have his clerks go ahead with the counting of those names found to be the same as those on the registration books and found to be qualified.

Several hundred cards meeting the requirements had been found by late afternoon.

If there are 2,548 of these qualified voters and verified names, there will be no need to check the remainder.

But in the event the number falls short, the clerk will then go into the groups of names that do not exactly match the poll books.

Here are the six general rulings set up by Finan:

Those who last voted in 1952

City Will Conduct Study For Protection Of Trees

The Mayor and Council is going to look into a plan for the preservation of trees on streets and public property.

The Garden Club of Cumberland wrote to the council suggesting that the city look into the plans worked out in Hagerstown and Frederick along these lines.

The club, through its secretary, Mrs. Lillian Pitkethly, urged that an ordinance be adopted for the protection of existing trees.

William H. Buchholtz, commissioner of streets and public property, noted that trees on streets constitute a problem, with roots working their way into the sewers, causing them to clog up.

In other places, he added, the roots push up pavements and surfaces of streets.

City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery was instructed to write to the two other Maryland cities to obtain copies of their ordinances.

The council promised to study a plan in regard to this subject.

In his report to the council on the city water reservoirs C. L. Brotemarkle, assistant superintendent of the Evitts Creek Water Company said water consumption for the week ending April 21 was 11,924,000 gallons as compared to 11,738,000 gallons for the similar week last year.

There is ample water in the city's two dams, with the crest of Lake Gordon two inches over the spillway and one inch over at Lake Koon.

In another routine report, city parking meter collections for the week ending April 14 amounted to $793.92, an increase of $5.64 over the previous week's total of $788.28.

The council also authorized Samuel R. Brady, equipment operator in the Street Department, to take a two-week leave of absence beginning May 6 so that he can take Seabee reserve training at Davisville, R. I.

The election in that year was held in March and according to the election laws a voter's name must be removed from the poll books if he does not vote within every five years.

It was held that a person could have signed the petition between February 25 (the date the city passed the ordinance calling for the $500,000 bond issue) and to March 18, and would have been a qualified voter during that period.

But Finan noted that the petitions carried no dates, and that the only thing the city had to go on would be the filing dates, April 5 and 6.

For this reason, he ruled that these persons should be disqualified, as the five years had elapsed.

Another group disqualified, for the time being at least, are those whose name is found on the poll books, but whose address on the petition differs from that in the registry.

Mayor Eves pointed out that there are many similar names in the city directory.

Those names illegible will not be counted, the officials agreed, even if the addresses can be read. There were cases of the first two initials and the address being readable, but the last name blurred and impossible to decipher.

Another group disqualified, for the time being, are transpositions of the two names and initials, even though the addresses on the petitions agree with those on the poll books.

An illustration of this group is: E. John Smith, 105 A Street, (on the petition), and John E. Smith, 105 A Street, (registered name on poll books).

The last group that will be disqualified, temporarily, are those of the first two initials being used instead of full first name and initial.

An example of this case would be: E. F. Jones, 105 B Street, (on the petition), and Edward F. Jones, 105 B Street, (on the poll books).

Under constitutional home rule, the legislative body of the city has to verify the names on the petitions when a referendum is requested.

Under statutory home rule, the mayor has to verify the names and make a public attempt to have the names identified.

In the 1954 petition for a referendum on the Cumberland Thruway bond issue and contract signing issue, the mayor published a list of names so that the signers could come to City Hall and identify themselves.

Hospital attaches said the boy, Roger Feight, son of Mrs. Beulah Feight, RD 6, city, is in "fair" condition with first and second degree burns of both legs.

The boy was reportedly playing jacks on the kitchen floor when a tea kettle fell off a stove, spilling the hot water on the lad.

Luke Asks State To Take Over Part Of Route 135

An attorney representing the Bloomington which has been in the Town of Luke appeared before the county board of commissioners yesterday to discuss the community's request for the state to take over about a mile of Route 135 from a point at Grant Street to the Garrett County line.

Horace P. Whitworth Sr., the attorney, said he has received a letter from the State Roads Commission outlining the procedure which would have to be followed. The Luke petition for the state to take over the roadway would require approval by the county commissioners, he said.

Under the procedure, Whitworth said, the county would have to substitute mileage under the 12-year road program if the one-mile road within the Luke town limits were to be improved and taken into the state system.

Whitworth said the town receives a total of $2,417.44 in gasoline tax money for one year. Approximately $800 of this sum is for the one mile of roadway in question he added. Whitworth pointed out that the one mile is technically within the town limits but that no homes are located along its length. The cost of maintenance is high and the town would like for the state to assume jurisdiction of that portion along which there are no homes or buildings.

The State Roads Commission informed Whitworth that the roadway would have to be widened and improved and this would be expensive. Whitworth told the county commissioners that the section connects with that portion of Route 135 beyond

Police Chief Cites Dog Poison Danger

Police Chief R. Emmett Flynn yesterday in a statement cited the danger involved in the recent spree of dog poisoning.

Chief Flynn said: "This is a very dangerous and vicious practice on account of children who might innocently get hold of the poison and die before anyone knows the cause and is able to summon a doctor."

"I do not know what is in a person's heart that would make them wantonly poison a dumb animal. The dog does not know that he is doing wrong. People who own dogs should keep them penned up until they have time to go with them for exercise."

Several complaints have been received recently by police concerning the poisoning of dogs in various sections of Cumberland, Flynn said.

The chief noted that all officers have been instructed to apprehend the persons involved in this inhuman practice.

The officers will be elected at the annual meeting of the association at the Hotel Traymore in Atlantic City, N. J., June 20, 21 and 22.

Police Search For Assailants Of Young Boy

City police have spread their net which indicate some of the gang of four or five youths who allegedly beat Shannon may live in outlying districts of Cumberland. Monday night in South Cumberland.

Detective Lt. James E. Van have been used by the attackers in the case when young Shannon was received Monday about 10:15 p. m.

Officers James Swann and Royce Clayton answered the call and found the youth in a "state of shock" when they arrived at the Jackson Street address.

Officer Swann said Shannon's grandmother stated that four or five youths beat her grandson somewhere between Jane Frazier Village and Virginia Avenue. Police said the boy had walked to his home after the beating.

He was admitted to Memorial Hospital about 10:30 Monday night after he was taken there in the police cruiser. Attendants said the boy sustained possible head injuries, but was "better" last night.

Meanwhile, five other local boys were questioned yesterday by City Police in connection with the assault of two Cumberland Sunday Times paperboys early Sunday morning on Virginia Avenue.

Lt. Van said the boys made statements and were released in the custody of their parents. They will be given hearings in Juvenile Court Thursday.

Sewage Treatment Plant Progresses

Workers last week were putting the finishing touches on many of the units of Cumberland's sewage treatment plant, which is slated for completion about June 1.

Mayor Roy W. Eves said glaziers were busy at the Evitts Creek pumping station, installing glass on the nearly completed structure.

At the main treatment station area, workers were busy placing topsoil on the slopes of the levees and grading nearby areas. Other crews were removing dust and mud from the stone base so roads and walkways could be laid.

Painters and electricians were working on most of the buildings and other crews were making connections to sewers in the brickyard area.

Burdette Asks Public Apology From Tebbetts

MILWAUKEE, April 23 (AP)—Pitcher Lew Burdette of the Milwaukee Braves tonight asked a public apology from Birdie Tebbetts, manager of the Cincinnati Redlegs who had called the big righthander a "cheating spitballer."

Burdette made the request shortly after Warren Giles, National League president, said in Cincinnati that the Milwaukee pitcher has not violated any rules.

In making the request, Burdette said "I don't care what they call me on the playing field, but when they carry it off the field and it affects my family, that's carrying it too far."

He explained that because of Tebbetts' charge, his six-year-old son, Lewis Kent, "was already having trouble with some of the older kids." Burdette's son attends kindergarten in nearby West Allis.

Giles, Umpires

as (Larry) Goetz, (Babe) Pinelli, (Lee) Ballantian, and others and neither I nor they are of the opinion that he has, up to now, violated the intent or language of rule 8.02.

"If and when he or any other pitcher does, I feel confident the umpires will call it."

"There may have been times when pitchers (and infielders) actually have rubbed the ball on his glove as I have seen hundreds of times over the years and which, by common practice, has been overlooked by the umpires."

"The intent of that portion of the rule is to prohibit discoloring a new ball put into play."

After reading Giles' letter, Paul issued a statement saying he was satisfied.

"We asked for a clarification and interpretation of rule 8.02 and we have received it," Paul said. "We are not attempting to determine the merits of the rule or the clarification, or the interpretation. Until now it has never been definitely determined whether it was permissible for a pitcher to go to his mouth. Since we and all clubs are being advised this is connections to sewers in the brickyard area."

State ASC Chairman Offers Tree Advice

Maryland farmers who signed conservation reserve contracts which included tree planting as a conservation practice should consult with their county ASC office if they are unable to get seedlings this spring, Leonard C. Burns, chairman of the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, declared yesterday.

Should it be necessary to postpone the tree planting until seedlings are available next year, the county ASC committee will determine whether the land designated for trees under the conservation reserve is an erosion hazard, Mr. Burns explained.

If it is evident that the land will suffer serious erosion by remaining in its present condition until trees are planted, a temporary cover crop will be required to prevent erosion until the trees are planted. If there is no danger of serious erosion, the land may remain as is until the trees are planted.

200 Workers Processing State Income Tax Returns

ANNAPOLIS, Md., April 23 (AP)—If you're anxiously awaiting a refund on your state income tax, you'd better not hold your breath till it arrives.

Your return could be at the bottom of a stack of mail that may not even get opened till the end of May.

But here's one tip for you: Writing or phoning the income tax division with questions about your refund will delay it, not speed it up.

That's the word from Benjamin F. Marsh, chief of the Income Tax Division of the state comptroller's office.

Marsh has stripped his field offices to the bone and has about 200 workers spread over three floors of the state office building processing the returns.

Phone calls and letters, all of which the division tries to check and answer, can cause considerable delay in the work, Marsh said.

To date about 140,000 refunds amounting to nearly $1,600,000 have been mailed out to Marylanders and another 100,000 non-refund returns have been processed.

Marsh expects to handle about 750,000 returns altogether, and he guesses that more than half—about 400,000—will be refunds.

Estimating along this line is difficult, Marsh points out, since these returns are for Maryland's first full year under the new withholding plan.

Speaking of the high proportion of refunds, Marsh said an analysis of those processed so far shows that many were unnecessary.

If workers gave their employers the same information regarding dependents that they report on their income tax return, he said, the correct amount would be withheld from their salaries and many refunds would be eliminated.

Marsh's workers are moving out the refunds as fast as possible, but processing the returns takes more time than most people realize.

For instance, a squad of eight men is still sorting miscellaneous and mislaid mail from the final deluge of returns which came in on the April 15 deadline.

Marsh says the operations are geared to process more than 100,000 returns per month, but cannot possibly clean up the work on hand by the end of the fiscal year, June 30.

Ex-Nursing Home Operator Indicted

CAMBRIDGE, Md., April 23 (AP)—Mrs. Thelma C. Passwaters, who formerly operated a nursing home here, was indicted by the grand jury today on two counts of issuing checks under false pretenses.

Then she was served with 10 new warrants by Sheriff David F. Bradshaw charging her with failing to pay wages to nursing home employees.

Two other warrants, one accusing her of moving unpaid-for equipment across the county line and the other involving a $182.44 check, were still to be served.

Mrs. Passwaters was released in bail totaling $2,750, with bail on one charge still to be set.

Lawyer Seeks New Trial On Tax Charge

BALTIMORE, April 23 (AP)—Sentencing of Arnold H. Ripperger, Baltimore lawyer convicted of failing to file income tax returns for 1953 and 1954, was postponed today pending outcome of a new trial motion.

Ripperger, son of Circuit Court Clerk Henry J. Ripperger, was convicted in Federal District Court yesterday of failing to report $6,694 income in 1953 and $7,175 in 1954. The government contended he owed a total tax of $1,796.

U.S. Atty. Leon Pierson said the lawyer had not filed income tax returns since 1949 although the government would recommend a jail sentence in the case.

Ripperger told the court he did not file because "I was under the impression that if a return were filed the money had to be paid. I didn't have the money at the time."

The defendant, who also is organizer at several churches in addition to practicing law, testified he had filed income tax returns for his clients.

He was released in $3,000 bail pending a hearing on the new trial move.

Dentists' Convention

BALTIMORE, April 23 (AP)—More than 600 persons are expected here May 5-8 for the 74th annual meeting of the Maryland State Dental Assn.

Charles E. Broadrup of Frederick, president, said reservations have been received from members of the Allegany-Garrett, Baltimore City, Baltimore County, Eastern Shore, Frederick, Southern Maryland and Washington County dental societies.

CAA Rejects Site For D. C. Airport

WASHINGTON, April 23 (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Administration (CAA) said today development of a second commercial airport for Washington at Belmont Bay, Va., would be impractical.

It is the second time in six years that the CAA has rejected the site, which is 21 miles southwest of Washington.

At the same time, the CAA's report said the agency still feels that "the location near Burke, Va., is the most logical for the much-needed supplemental airport."

Rep. Broyhill (R-Va.) suggested several months ago that the CAA again consider the Belmont Bay site. Broyhill is opposed to the Burke site.

The CAA listed these among its findings regarding Belmont Bay that the off-peak driving time via Shirley Highway to Belmont Bay would be 36 minutes—6.5 times more than to Burke, and 11.5 minutes less than to Baltimore's Friendship Airport.

Baltimore's Friendship Airport also has been suggested as a supplemental airport for Washington.

Washington County Assessment Stand

HAGERSTOWN, Md., April 23 (AP)—The Washington County commissioners said today they will resist attempts to increase property assessments in the county until all other Maryland counties raise assessments to the present Washington County level.

Chester Delphay, president of the board of county commissioners, disclosed the stand in discussing a State Tax Commission letter. The letter requested that Washington County property be assessed at 65 per cent of fair market value, instead of the present 55-60 per cent indicated by recent surveys. The same surveys showed some counties with assessments as low as 25 per cent of market value.

"We should not make any change unless we definitely know that all other counties in the State are up with us," said Delphay.

BALTIMORE, April 23 (AP)—The Maryland Library Assn. will hold its annual meeting Friday and Saturday, April 26 and 27 in Baltimore.

Man Admits Theft, Taking Trip To "Boost Morale"

BALTIMORE, April 23 (AP)—A 26-year-old former theater manager, who said he "got down in the dumps," admitted today he boosted his morale by taking a "little blonde" on a vacation with $1,663 from the theater safe.

George David Duncan, pleaded guilty in Circuit Court to stealing the money. In a statement to police, he said he had the blues and after a spell of solitary drinking decided to go to Oregon where he has relatives.

Duncan said he asked the 18-year-old girl whom he had known for some weeks at the theater where she also worked, to go with him. She agreed.

Police described her as a "little blonde." She was held as a State's witness. Police did not charge her because she said she did not know until she returned to Baltimore April 10 that the money was stolen.

Duncan said he sent $100 to his wife and family and spent most of the rest on living expenses clothes for himself and the girl and a second-hand car. They left Baltimore March 21 by plane to Chicago and then traveled by train to Eugene, Ore. Police recovered the car, valued at $550 and some other articles.

Hagerstown To Seek Housing Unit Bids

HAGERSTOWN, Md., April 23 (AP)—The Hagerstown Housing Authority announced today bids will be sought next month for construction contracts on 155 new low-rent housing units in the city.

The authority said plans and specifications for the units, 125 designed for white families and 30 for Negroes, were being reviewed by the U.S. Public Housing Administration.

The Hagerstown agency already has 250 similar units.

Eli Whitney used wires from a bird cage to make his first cotton gin.

Human Depreciation And Income Taxes

A New York City Congressman, Rep. Herbert Zelenko, aged 50, has introduced a bill (HR 6912) to authorize income tax deductions for "depletion of human resources—the most important of all." At age 45 the taxpayer would be allowed to deduct one per cent from the earned income he reports. For each additional year he remained at work he could deduct an additional one per cent. At age 70 the deduction would amount to 25 per cent.

The federal tax laws already provide percentage depletion allowances for income derived from natural resources which, in the case of oil and gas wells, range up to 27½ per cent. And for corporations in general there are allowances for depreciation of buildings and machinery.

The U. S. Supreme Court ruled long ago that a corporation is a "person" within the meaning of the due process clauses of the Constitution. If the Court could now be induced to rule that a flesh-and-blood being is a "corporation," the individual taxpayer might be able to claim a right to charge off the human machine's depreciation, of which he is only too conscious after age 45. The straight-line method, the double-declining-balance method, and the sum-of-the-years-digits method would have different attractions for different classes of taxpayers. Corporations are free to choose among them.

An interesting idea, but Rep. Zelenko's is a better one, in that it may have some chance of adoption.

The Tax Haven

No one can blame Teodoro Moscoso, Administrator of Economic Development of Puerto Rico, for trying to inveigle American companies to come to his island to enjoy life without taxes. Puerto Rico is entitled to benefit by whatever means are available to it. But the question does arise whether it is good for the United States that tax havens should come into existence to deprive the Treasury of income.

This is what Moscoso has to say:

"... the Commonwealth Government is now offering U. S. manufacturers such extraordinary incentives that over 450 new factories have already been opened on this lovely Caribbean island in the past five years."

To allay fears, Moscoso says that tax concessions are not granted to runaway plants. That is a fine point. How is it determined whether a plant is "runaway" or is just moving to Puerto Rico to save taxes? The fact is that some very large companies have opened up in the Commonwealth where they find it advantageous to be, although it is not likely that these companies sell much to the people of Puerto Rico. Among them are:

Union Carbide & Carbon, Remington Rand, St. Regis Paper, Beaulieu Mills, International Latex, Carborundum Company, Shoe Corporation of America, United Drill and Tool, Sunbeam Electric, Univis Lens, Weston Electrical Instrument Company.

According to Moscoso's table, if a corporation makes a net profit after taxes of $29,500 in the United States, that profit without taxes will be $50,000 in Puerto Rico, and it goes up so that if a corporation's net profit after taxes in the United States is $485,500, it will be $1,000,000 if the corporation is situated in Puerto Rico and continues to sell in the United States. Of course, it must continue to sell in the United States because how much can Union Carbide & Carbon or Remington Rand dispose of their products in Puerto Rico? How many Univacs do the Puerto Ricans buy?

Puerto Rico is also good for the individual. Moscoso gives some figures: If your income after individual income taxes in the United States amounts to $7,760, in Puerto Rico your net will be $10,000; applying the same ratios, if in the U. S. the income is $51,180, in Puerto Rico it will be $200,000. This is real dough, and we should probably all move to Puerto Rico but what do we do for a living there? A local American receiving dividends from a tax-exempt corporation gets a tax-free dividend.

The Puerto Ricans do not hold out low wages as an inducement to attract new enterprises, but the wages are lower than they are on the mainland and that is an attraction whether it is held out or not.

In a word, Puerto Rico is a tax haven for those who wish to use it as such and because it is a tax haven for some, it adds to the taxes of all the rest of us. In fact, as taxes rise in the United States, the number of tax havens increases, lawyers and accountants who specialize in this field stimulating interest in the concept. In some tax havens, a nominal fee is paid which is so small that it does not matter at all. As taxes increase, this situation will become worse because every sensible person tries to avoid paying taxes and thus far the law has favored the tax evader to the detriment of the rest of us who have to share the evader's burdens.

I have selected Puerto Rico as an example because of Teodoro Moscoso's advertisement which is designed to assist American manufacturers to open a factory in Puerto Rico to manufacture goods which will be sold in the United States and nevertheless no taxes on them will be paid. It is all legal, but is it beneficial to the United States?

The tax-paying citizen suffers a three-way squeeze. First the government fixes a budget without regard to anyone's needs and taxes us accordingly. Then the tax-evader finds a legal and comfortable way to evade some taxes, throwing the burden on other citizens. Finally, there is the illegal tax evader who just does not pay and gets away with it. The only fellow who really has a tough time is the one who pays and who gets inspected and who is required to pay some more plus a six per cent penalty. Let's all move to Puerto Rico.

The Hand That Feeds The World

U.S. Takes A Back Seat In Strategic Airpower

By Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson's announcement that production of the B-52 heavy bomber will be slashed by twenty-five per cent hardly caused a ripple. Actually, the announcement represents a major national policy decision, and its meaning ought to be well understood.

Its basic meaning is quite simple. It means that the American government has decided to permit the Soviet Union to outstrip the United States in the production of longrange strategic bombers, a field in which the United States only a few years ago reigned absolutely supreme.

The inner history of the decision to reduce the production target of B-52s from twenty a month to fifteen a month is illuminating. Last spring Wilson himself announced, with considerable fanfare, that production of the heavy bomber would be stepped up to twenty a month by December of this year. There was a double motivation behind the announcement.

For one thing, the Symington subcommittee on air power was breathing down the Administration's neck in an election year. But that was by no means all. Wilson and his advisers were quite honestly scared by intelligence estimates of Soviet heavy bomber production. These estimates, concurred in by the entire "intelligence community," put Soviet production of the Bison heavy jet bomber, the Soviet equivalent of the B-52, at the very high figure of twenty-four a month.

The estimates presaged a clear Soviet superiority in longrange strategic air power in the near future, since B-52 production was at the time well under half the estimated Soviet production of Bisons. General Curtis LeMay,

Chief of the Strategic Air Command, argued that Soviet heavy bomber production should at least be matched by this country. He had the support of most of the air staff.

But to match the Soviets would have thrown the budget very badly out of whack. The decision to step up production to twenty a month by the end of this year was therefore a compromise. Air Force planning went ahead on the basis of that compromise.

The plan called for going as soon as possible to a minimum of seventeen wings of B-52s (there are 45 B-52s to a wing, plus 30 KC-135 aerial tankers). But as cost estimates of the seventeen wing plan began to come in, Secretary Wilson became increasingly horrified, and Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey even more so.

Then last fall, a new intelligence estimate showed some slippage in Bison production. The estimate, according to good authority, was an honest one — it was not a result of political pressure. But it was certainly convenient. Although it warned that the Soviet production slippage, which was rather minor anyway, was probably temporary, it gave Wilson and the economists just the talking point they needed.

Accordingly, the Air Force heavy bomber program was cut back to eleven wings, accounting for almost $2 billion of the $4 billion cut out of the whole Air Force program. Yet the produc-

Ike, Benson Hope To End Vicious Circle Of Farm Price Supports

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON. — President Eisenhower and Secretary Benson have a new farm program about ready to spring on the farmers. It will probably mean: the end of all farm price supports.

Meeting with Republican leaders in Congress last week, the President gave a preview of the plan. He described the present farm price support program as a vicious circle. When crop surpluses are disposed of abroad, he pointed out, the law requires that domestic price supports increase.

"This means that farmers increase their production and we have more surpluses," said the President. "If our present laws are inadequate to deal with this situation, then they ought to be changed. We are not wedded to any program, if it isn't working."

Secretary Benson, who attended the meeting, agreed that his flexible program hadn't worked out as well as he had hoped, but he contended that this was partly because of "mandatory provisions" still in the law, establishing 75 per cent minimums for price supports on basic crops—corn, wheat, cotton, rice and peanuts.

An over-all review of the crop price and surplus situation would be made with an eye to corrective legislation, Benson reported. Farm organizations would be consulted. However, he emphasized that Congress should assume a great part of the responsibility. He didn't want to be left carrying the ball alone, declared the Secretary of Agriculture.

Big Farmers Profit.

Another objection raised by Eisenhower was the high cost to the taxpayers of maintaining the current Benson program, as reflected by the Agriculture Department's budget of $5,300,000. In this connection, Congressional leaders reported that some farm senators felt that the cost of sending surplus farm goods abroad should be charged to the foreign aid program, not the farm program.

Eisenhower said he was opposed to this, pointing out that farmers "get the benefit of the surplus disposal program."

The President also contended that the bulk of the benefits under the present program were going to big farmers, and that "the small farmer isn't getting his rightful share." One reason for this, it was brought out, was that big farmers could make a living out of Benson's Soil Bank program, even if they take a large part of their soil out of production—something little farmers cannot afford to do.

NOTE 1: Farm organizations report that the big farmers and "absentee" city farmers are engaged in a wave of land buying, then putting these acres into the Soil Bank.

NOTE 2: It wasn't mentioned at the White House meeting, but some GOP politicians say they're tired of appeasing the Farm Belt, believe it's better to let farm prices drop and get political credit with consumers and housewives for lower prices.

Inside Jordan

Here is more of the inside story on why King Hussein suddenly got up enough nerve to fire his pro-Communist premier and army chief.

King Saud of Saudi Arabia telephoned the 22-year-old king, pledging that his troops would rush to the latter's aid in case of any fighting. He told King Hussein that he could consider himself commander-in-chief of the 3,000 Saudi troops already stationed in Jordan and that they would fight to the death for him.

This dramatic phone call gave Hussein the courage he needed to crack down on pro-Russian leaders and take over as the real boss of Jordan. So it looks as if Ike's entertainment of King Saud has begun to pay off.

Diplomatic Pouch

Prime Minister Nkrumah of the new Negro nation of Ghana has asked President Eisenhower to name a white man instead of a Negro as American Ambassador, Nkrumah wants a top-flight career diplomat sent to his country because he believes a white Ambassador's recommendations would pack more weight than those of an American Negro politician. The man Ike will probably name is Career Officer Wilson Flake... Moscow may be facing another Hungary — this time in the Baltic. Anti-Russian riots are sweeping the tiny Baltic states of Estonia, Latvia, and Lithuania. Moscow has moved in troops and police. Several hundred patriots have been arrested... Marshal Tito, who bragged only six months ago he no longer needed American military aid, is now begging for American jet fighters. Tito says the picture has changed because Russia is again threatening him... Special U.S. Ambassador Richards has decided he will not visit Egypt to explain the new Eisenhower Doctrine even if Dictator Nasser does invite him. Richards had been angling for an invitation to Cairo ever since he began his Middle East tour, but now that Egypt has ignored his overtures he's so mad that he's cabled the State Department he won't go even if invited... Egyptian agents are stirring up the Jordan populace against new Prime Minister Hussein Khalidi on the charge that he is an American puppet and that his son is an American citizen. (It's true that his son, Hatem Khalidi, is an American citizen, working for a Louisiana oil company)... The Mideast spotlight will soon move to Morocco, where the U.S. is involved in a buildup campaign for Sultan Mohammed as a forceful counterpart for Nasser influence in Africa. This isn't making France too happy. Premier Mollet is privately furious. Latest move: the U.S. Air Force bypassed the French last week and opened direct negotiations with Mohammed for a base in Morocco.

What was the most profitable film ever produced? That is, judging by percentage of profit. It was that silent film titled "Traffic In Souls." The production cost of this remarkable film was $5,700. It grossed several million dollars. It was produced by Universal Films and directed by George Loane Tucker. It was Tucker who also directed that other terrific money making film titled "The Miracle Man." That featured Tom Meighan, Betty Compson and Lon Chaney. If you recall it, you are cinch to get into the Young Old Timer's Association.

HORSES AND WOMEN

A marked improvement is noticeable in the appearance of feminine headgear. Our countrywomen are now wearing their hats tilted at snappy angles. Makes them look younger and livelier. The dishpan hat worn flat on the head has been finally abandoned. Also noticeable is much improvement in feminine figure appearance. Evidently many women have given serious thought to the immortal query, "How are you going to look in a bathing suit?" However, there is still considerable room for reform in feminine appearance. As for example, those wrinkles in the rear which make an otherwise well dressed female look as if she has been sleeping on a park bench. Then there are the many women who wander around with slips showing. Also those who always seem to have a run in their nylons. Still, as has been said, the ladies are improving. Some credit for this must certainly be due to the vigilance and constructive criticism of observant husbands.

AMONG THE MARRIED

Women who marry a second time seldom marry for love. They just want to marry a nice man who will provide them with a peaceful home and a sense of security. Most men, however, who embark on a second matrimonial venture do so for love. The male is, of course, the more romantic sex.

TALL AND SHORT

The majority of Soviet Russia's leaders are short men. Five feet, seven inches in height or under. Incidentally, Stalin was five feet five, inches in height, Mussolini, five feet, six inches and Hitler five feet, seven inches. In this connection it is interesting to note that our greatest Presidents, Washington, Jefferson and Lincoln were all six footers.

BIRTH DATE

Were you born between February 13th and March 15th? How about your offspring? Experts say that is the best period of the year for a child to be born. Chances are the youngster will be very successful in after life. Among the great persons born in the February 13 — March 15 period were George Washington, Samuel Pepys, Talleyrand, Enrico Caruso, Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, Rossini, Chopin, Charles Schwab, Adeline Patti, Mary Garden, William F. "Buffalo Bill" Cody, Geraldine Farrar, Alexander Graham Bell, Van Gogh, Knute Rockne, Luther Burbank, Albert Einstein and Michelangelo.

On Dreaming, Heart Care And Musical Surgery

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

University of Chicago physiologists have discovered that the average person spends about two hours a night in dreams. These episodes may last longer than a few seconds, as we once thought; some continue for as long as an hour. Dreaming usually is preceded and followed by various body movement, such as turning over in bed or moving legs and arms. During the dream, the individual is quiet as though concentrating on his world of fantasy. The sooner he awakens the more likely he is to remember what it was all about.

How did the physiologists know these individuals were dreaming? During sleep, certain eye movements occurred which could be detected via an electrode attached to the eyelids. Apparently the sleeper's eyes follow the dream activity. Up and down eye movements were connected with dreams involving climbing; and activities on a horizontal plane called for turning the eyes from side to side.

Coronary clubs are made up of men and women who have survived a heart attack. But remembering that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, the New York City health department has organized the first anticoronary club for men 50 to 65 years old. Members must be willing to join a research project involving diet and frequent physical examinations.

Coronary thrombosis is so common among men over 50 that I often have wondered why wives of business executives, professional men, and other likely candidates do not form a PHAH club (Prevention of Heart Attacks in Husbands). This is a worthwhile project and would go a long way toward reducing our increasing widow population. Papa is just as important in the home as in the office, and if enough women put their heads together they may be able to keep him in tow without the customary nagging.

The American Rhinologic society, a national organization of nasal surgeons, is making available to its members, and others, tape recordings of music that can be played to patients during surgery. The man or woman listens through ear phones so that the surgeon and his staff are not disturbed.

The majority of selections consist of soft string music, which has a tranquilizing effect. Care was exercised in screening the numbers because some might bring up sad memories or lead to excitement.

CHEEK BITING

S. D. writes: How can I break myself of the habit of biting the inner lining of my cheeks?

REPLY

Find out whether your teeth are rough and irritate the membrane or whether your bite is faulty. If these conditions do not exist, you will have to use self-control to break the habit.

GROWTH DETERRENT

J. T. writes: What is meant by an anti-vitamin?

REPLY

A substance that destroys vitamins and thereby hinders growth of certain cells. Aminoprotein, for example, is an antagonist of folic acid and is used in treating leukemia.

ARTHRITIC SPINE

E. J. D. writes: I'm a girl of 21 and X-rays of my spine show that I have osteoarthritis. Is this type curable?

REPLY

Osteoarthritis in a 21 year old is unusual. Relief of symptoms is possible even though we cannot say the disease is cured. The changes noted by X-ray will persist but what's the difference so long as it doesn't bother you?

BONE T. B.

D. H. writes: Is fever present in tuberculosis of the tibia?

REPLY

Yes.

EVEN AS YOU AND I

T. C. writes: Do pigs have veins?

REPLY

Yes, except those that become piggy banks.

TOMORROW: German measles

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Like all six-year-olds, Peter abhorred washing, and came to the dinner table one evening with elbows black as pitch. Sent back to the bathroom for repairs, he dawdled there so long that his mother called, "How are you coming, Pete? Elbows clean yet?"

"Not clean," he called back triumphantly, "but I got them to match."

The father-to-be had run the entire gamut of emotion in the hospital corridor, and was a veritable wreck when the nurse popped in to tell him happily, "It's a girl!"

"Thank heaven!" gasped the father with tears streaming down his face. "Thank heaven my daughter will never have to undergo the torture I've just experienced!"

Nine-year-old Marion, taken by her parents for her first transcontinental rail journey, was thrilled when the train plunged into a long tunnel in the Rockies. When it finally emerged at the other end, Marion exclaimed, "Look, Mom! It's tomorrow!"

VHS Students Want U. S. To Adopt Metric System

Algebra II Class Writes President

LONA CONING — Algebra II Class of Valley High school has written to President Dwight D. Eisenhower suggesting the adoption of the metric system for the nation's system of measurement.

Their letter to the President of the United States states: "Anticipating the use of the metric system in Chemistry Class next year, our Algebra II class has been doing some research on the Metric System of Measurement."

"After extensive study we feel that our nation would profit considerably by substituting for our present system of measurement the metric system."

"Undoubtedly the metric system is greatly superior to and much less difficult than the one now in use. More complete international understanding would definitely be promoted by the adoption of common standards which are already used by all the nations except the United States and Great Britain."

"We also noted in our reading that eight hundred million dollars is a conservative estimate of possible yearly savings in government expenditures alone. If we should convert to this system of weights and measures. It would be of great advantage in the fields of education, science, engineering, manufacturing, world trade and medicine."

"We know that you are a truly wonderful person, and that you will realize the possibilities and advantages our country would have if we changed to the metric system."

Mrs. Hilda B. Byers is instructor of the algebra class.

Appalachian Fruit Belt Has Escaped Serious Freezing

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., April 23 (AP)—The Appalachian fruit belt which runs through this Eastern Panhandle of West Virginia apparently escaped serious freezing damage during a recent spell of cold nights.

Wood Rannels of the Federal State Fruit Inspections Service, said today that with the exception of some cases of early varieties of peaches and Red Delicious apples, fruit buds had not developed sufficiently to be affected by the cold.

Rannels' check was made after a series of below-freezing nights with frost, followed by 80-degree daytime temperatures.

Bud growth, aside from minor frost killing in a few low areas, appears to be emerging favorably with indications of a good "set" which ordinarily means a big crop, Rannels said.

Peaches and early smaller fruit will be in bloom within a week. Apple bloom will not be at its peak for another two weeks, depending upon the weather.

Jefferson County Teacher Salary Boost Is Approved

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va., April 23 (AP)—A new salary scale which will boost the beginning pay of public school teachers from $2,880 to $3,150 a year has been approved by the Jefferson County Board of Education.

The basic wage for teachers with a master's degree will be raised from $3,150 to $3,420.

School Superintendent T. A. Lowery said the increase of $270 a year is made possible by pushing the experience increment in the county to the top and by use of a $18,000 federal aid grant which will become available July 1.

The school board also reestablished credits required for Jefferson County schools. Hereafter a student must earn 16 credits for graduation. Fourteen must be academic credits—four in English, three in social studies, one in mathematics, one in science, one in physical education and four elective studies. ## Burnside Outduels Kline, Giants Top Pirates, 1-0

Hank Sauer's Hit Scores Only Run

NEW YORK, April 23 (AP)—Veteran Hank Sauer further established himself as New York's No. 1 clutch hitter today by driving in the only run to give the Giants a 1-0 triumph over Pittsburgh as rookie Pete Burnside outpitched Ronnie Kline in a brilliant duel.

Sauer, whose bat produced two of the Giants' three earlier victories, singled home Willie Mays who had opened New York's fourth inning with a 450-foot double into the visiting team's bullpen in deepest left field.

Burnside, making his first start of the season, permitted the Pirates only three hits, all singles, and did not permit a runner to reach second base until the ninth inning when Frank Thomas singled with one out and advanced to second when left fielder Whitey Lockman fumbled the ball. The young lefthander was equal to the occasion, however, retiring Dale Long on an infield pop and Dick

Jackets Cop Extra Inning Battle From Franklin, 5-4

Keyser Wins Over Vikings, 9-4; WVSD, Berkeley Triumph

by Lefty Liller, and whiffed seven. Liller pitched good enough to win, yielding only four safeties and fanned 14 but errors by his teammates brought about his downfall. Charley Buemi accounted for two of the winning team's four safeties.

Romney plays off two postponed games this week, meeting Capon Bridge there today and Elk Garden at the latter place Thursday. The Moorefield at Romney game, set for Friday, has been postponed until May 16.

Berkeley Wins, 26-4

Berkeley Springs High School clobbered Wardensville High's Warriors to the tune of 26-4 at Berkeley Springs.

Coach Allen Goldstrom's Indians racked up 15 hits and took advantage of eight bases on balls and 12 fielding miscues charged against the visitors.

Lefty Kenneth Kerns, who twirled the first four innings, got credit for the win, his second of the season against one loss. Reliever Gary Henry fanned seven Wardensville batsmen.

Jim Vetter's long drive to left-center in the extra inning with the bases full scored their run that broke a 4-4 deadlock and gave Reliever Harry Fitzwater to decision over Stan Dahmer who went all the way for the Panthers. Moorefield filled the bases when Hyre got a life on an error, Schell drew a pass and Keller singled before Vetter delivered the winning blow that gave the Jackets a sweep of the two-game series. The score of the first game was 8-6.

Lester Hyre twirled the first six innings for Moorefield.

Billy Keller led Moorefield's 11th hit attack with a 5th inning circuit wallop and two singles while Vetter and Ralph Bean garnered two safeties each. Three of Franklin's 10 safeties were tripes by Stan Dahmer, Sam Smith and Bill Showalter.

Bob Staggs Victor

Coach Fred "Tack" Clark's Keyser Golden Tornado kept its record unblemished by scoring eight runs in the first three innings to defeat the Petersburg High Vikings at Keyser by the score of 9-4.

Bob Staggs, who replaced starter Terry Maine in the second inning, got credit for the win, his second of the season. He yielded 4 hits in 5 1/2 innings, issued only one pass and struck out five.

Keyser's infield executed three snappy double plays and Centerfielder Bill Clevenger turned in the fielding gem in the 4th frame when he made a sensational stab of a drive from the bat of Redman.

Jim Ridings, Keyser third sacker, collected three hits in four official trips. Estel Sites rapped a pair of three-baggers for Petersburg.

Keyser's next P. V. C. engagement is at Elk Garden on Friday, Lions In .500 Class

West Virginia School for the Deaf moved into the .500 circle by scoring its third win in six starts at the expense of Romney High School in a game played on the latter's field. The score was 3-2.

The Lions pushed over what proved to be the deciding run in the top of the 7th inning.

Romney suffered its third straight defeat but broke a string of 14 scoreless innings by making a run in the first frame. The Deaf tossers scored runs in the fifth, sixth and seventh innings.

Johnny Popovich limited the Panthers to two hits, one a triple

Hardy's Streams Get 8,000 Trout

MOOREFIELD, April 23 — Hardy county fishermen are eagerly awaiting the hour of 5:33 a. m. Saturday April 27 when the West Virginia trout season opens. The limit this year is eight trout from streams or five from ponds and impoundments—no size limit.

Townsend also assisted in stocking some of the 18 streams stocked in Grant county this year. He said that both the South Branch above Petersburg and the North Fork were liberally stocked.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, April 23 (INS)—Poor Sophia Loren is having her troubles. She tries to be nice to everyone, but you just can't please everybody in this world so she has come in for some criticism. In spite of some sniping from disgruntled folk, Sophia likes our town and has agreed to star in "Two People," which George Sidney will make for Columbia in Mexico.

Just before George went to San Francisco for "Pal Joey" locations, Sophia said she would star in this picture. It's a story that John Fante is writing and has to do with European refugees who arrive in Mexico to await entry into the U. S.

One of the most attractive football greats is Frank Gifford, half-back, who joined the New York Giants professional football team after being an All-American at USC. Frank has been signed by Jack Warner for an important role in "Darby's Rangers."

When Frank recently appeared on "What's My Line" he caused quite a sensation with his good looks and he was named on that show, "The Most Valuable Player of the Year."

Frank was discussed for Jack Dempsey's life story and when it comes casting, time, if he is available, it could very well happen that he'll be signed.

I told you only a few days ago that Julie London had been signed as Robert Taylor's girl friend in "Three Guns" for MGM. Now I find that the attractive Julie will first report May 13 at the Warner lot to play opposite Alan Ladd in "The Deep Six." Both she and William Bendix who plays the boatswain were signed by Producer Marty Raskin and George Berthelon, manager of Alan Ladd's independent Jaguar company.

Warners obtained the full cooperation of the Navy Department for this story, which deals with a destroyer in the Aleutians during World War II.

While I was in Palm Springs I heard Anna Maria Alberghetti and her gifted sister, Carla, sing at the Chi Chi. The two girls are delightful! It was refreshing to have them and the comedian, Jimmy O'Brien, clean and so good because there were so many children with their parents present. Anna Maria called Jimmy McHugh to the stage to play "A Most Unusual Day" which she sang.

She is very happy that Climax has asked her to appear again on May 16 in a dramatic role. "The reason I am glad," she said, "is because I was on Climax not so long ago and again I play a dramatic role." This time she appears with Peter Lawford in "Castle Garcia."

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Sad that Marilyn Erskine (Mrs. Charles Chandler), who wanted her baby so much, lost it and is in Cedars of Lebanon hospital. She underwent surgery for the removal of a tumor, with Dr. Leon Krohn as surgeon.

If Walter Chiari does as his mother says he will not marry Ava Gardner because of her several divorces.

I'd say Loretta Young has earned herself a vacation, and she's taking it. She and Janie Sharp, wife of Dr. John Sharp, are off on a short trip to Europe. Later, Loretta will meet her husband, Tom Lewis, in New York. That's all today. See you tomorrow!

Hit Your Stride

Once you've hit your stride, walking becomes part of your own, sound program of health and beauty. After a stretch of dull and rainy days, it's wonderful to step out into sunshine and to see that a good walk refreshes and stimulates rather than tires.

Experiment to find a stride that's entirely natural. Step out on the first bright day with a purpose. Stretch your legs and swing along with a strong, exhilarating rhythm, chin up and breathing deeply. Don't lag or break stride — how you sustain the pitch of a swinging rhythm makes a big difference in how much you enjoy your walk and how much good it does you.

The Right Rate

Hit a good clip, and expect to pace distances effortlessly. Slow down at once if there's a feeling of strain; finding your own rate of speed is what counts. Adjust your steps until they're unmistakably free and easy. If they're still purposeful and rhythmic and walking's more of a pleasure than ever before, you've hit your stride.

How to find time for daily walks? Setting aside time usually isn't necessary. Just break the habit of riding relatively short distances. If distance demands riding to work, walk part-way before or after boarding transportation. Try to discover new places to lunch, farther away, or new stores outside your neighborhood. All these require only a little more time, and always keep your eyes open to what goes on about you as you swing by.

Tomorrow: Control Your Voice.

P. S. YOUR POSTURE—Achieve grace of the highest degree—make yours the posture ideal—improve stance, figure, health and the appearance of your clothes. ## On The Line

by Bob Considine

NEW YORK, April 23—(INS)—As we were saying only yesterday, newspapers make a big difference in people's lives every day. They place a record of the world's achievements and failures in your hands not on the hour or the half hour, or at 11 p. m., but any time during the day or night when you want or need this vital intelligence. They spread the market place and the bazaar before you not at the speed of light but in retainable form, the better to barten.

In a world that moves swifter than sound the only document published in tune with the times, but which submits to being mullied over, is the newspaper. It stretches and gives permanence to immediacy. And always it has a definite, if sometimes subtle bearing on our lives.

For example, the largest police department in the country states without equivocation that the "Mad Bomber" would still be about his baleful business today, placing bombs in the nation's greatest city, if the New York Journal-American had not leeked him out of his sinister anonymity with a promise—quickly fulfilled—that the maniac's grievances would be thoroughly reviewed and he would be given the best available legal representation.

The Journal-American's feat is in the tried and trusted tradition not as yet shared by any other communications medium. Harriet Beecher Stowe's "Uncle Tom's Cabin" is historically credited with galvanizing anti-slavery sentiment which prodded the successful prosecution of the Civil War by Union forces. Actually, it probably had no more, if as much, to do with rallying these somewhat laggard Northern arm-unmistakably free and easy. If they're still purposeful and rhythmic and walking's more of a pleasure than ever before, you've hit your stride.

The penetrating cartoons of Thomas Nast and the piercing words of George Jones of the New York Times warned and fended against future generations of urban pirates by bringing Boss Tweed to book, ending a notable pillage of the public treasury of New York City. In addition, one wonders how ill justice in the civilized world would have fared thereafter if Captain Alfred Dreyfus had not had the support of such journalists as Emile Zola, Jean Jaures, Georges Clemenceau, Anatole France, Leon Blum, and the nearly 300 working newspapermen who covered the second of the courts-martial of the French officer.

There are fire laws today, because of the graphic newspaper coverage of great conflagrations in New York, Baltimore, Chicago and San Francisco a half a century or more ago, just as there is and has been a spirited resolution to wipe out the ignorance and preposterous understatements surrounding such villainous killers as tuberculosis, cancer and polio. There are better working conditions today because of sweat shop exposes of decades ago. There is better understanding of war, and the futility of it, because writers like Count Zeppelin, Henry Morton Stanley, Whitelaw Reid, Henry Villard, Harriet Martineau, Osborn, Walt Whitman, E. H. House, William A. Croffutt, E. C. Stedman and

The bidding:

East South West North
 Pass Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead: King of hearts. It took considerable enterprise from West to defeat the doubled contract of four clubs in today's hand.

South decided to destroy enemy communications with a preemptive bid of four clubs. West found himself in an awkward position. An overall of four diamonds was a possible choice but the texture of his suit did not especially appeal to him.

Furthermore, a game at spades was not at all a remote prospect if partner could be found with four of that suit, so he chose to double. While a double of an opening four bid is deemed to be for penalties, there is nevertheless the chance that partner with an unbalanced hand might choose to take it out.

Of course a take-out into four hearts might prove disastrous, but West was willing to take his chances. It was tempting for East to bid but, unable to decide between his two suits, he chose to leave the double in.

West opened the king of hearts taken by the ace in dummy. Declarer led to the ace of clubs and immediately played the jack of diamonds in order to set up a discard for a losing heart. West rose with the ace.

Having observed the fall of East's ten of clubs, he played upon the theory that partner had the queen of that suit, and an effort must be made to cash the clubs separately. This could be done only if a heart ruff could be obtained. Partner must for this purpose have the king of spades.

Careless play of the ace and another spade would have lost the hand, for declarer, would have ruffed the second lead and knocked out the trumps. West cautiously underled the ace. East went up with the king and returned a heart to set the contract.

Note that if declarer clears the trumps immediately, West must still underlead his ace of spades to set the contract. East will then obtain the lead in time to drive out the queen of hearts, dummy's remaining entry. Without this play, declarer would have time to set up the king of diamonds for the needed heart discard.

Market Registers Best Advance In Two Weeks

NEW YORK, April 23 (AP)—The stock market charged ahead for its best gain in two weeks today.

Turnover also was the best in two weeks, at 2,840,000 shares compared with 2,560,000 yesterday.

Selected issues rose, or in some cases fell, by even wider margins. Lukens Steel once again was a prime example, soaring to a new high of 100 for its recently split stock.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose $1.10 to $180.20 with the industrials up $1.90, the rails up $1.00 and the utilities up 20 cents to a new 1957 high.

Based on the rise in the average, the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange rose an estimated $1,340,000,000.

Bethlehem Steel was the most active stock, up 1 at 46 1/4 on 140,000 shares. Second was Chrysler, up 2 at 78 1/4 on 61,800 shares. Third was Lukens, up 6 1/4 to 100 on 60,100 shares.

Next came Allegheny Corp., up 1/4 at 8, and American Airlines up 1/4 at 18 1/4.

Chrysler, with its first quarter sales already established as a record, gained vigorously on Wall Street rumors that its quarterly earnings report this Thursday would be pleasant reading for investors.

General Telephone, up 1/4, was also among the most active stocks.

Chicago Board of Trade

CHICAGO, April 23 (AP)—Grain futures had a minor rally on the Board of Trade today, but it lacked steam and most prices moved lower in late trading. # Final Plans On Thruway Unit Slated

Access To Viaduct May Be Indicated

The City of Cumberland expects to receive a copy of the final plans for part of the Cumberland Thruway today.

The plans are expected to include the overhead section of the Thruway and its downtown approaches.

C. R. Nuzum, city engineer, has been notified by the Maryland State Roads Commission that the plans for the major portion of the $12,000,000 project will be submitted for study and approval of the city.

He said yesterday he will ask that copies of the plans be left at City Hall so the Engineering Department may make a thorough study of them.

Council To Act

Then, he said, the plans will be submitted to the Mayor and Council for study and final approval.

Mr. Nuzum indicated he may ask a representative of Green Associates, Baltimore, the engineering firm which held the SRC contract for the design, to meet with the Mayor and Council.

The Baltimore engineering firm early last year began work on the design of a 3.1-mile section of the Thruway.

Its contract included the portion beginning on Route 40 about 800 feet east of Willowbrook Road and Baltimore Avenue, to Central Avenue and then by an overhead viaduct spanning the downtown area and across the Western Maryland Railway and then to a point west of Kelly Boulevard. The firm was also asked to design the portion of the Industrial Highway segment from south of Harrison Street to Second Street.

Has Tentative Route

Preliminary plans for the major portions of the work have been forwarded to the city by the State Roads Commission.

All of the plans received so far have been labeled as preliminary, and not to be used for construction.

They have, however, been useful in briefing the city on the approximate route which will be followed when the final plans and specifications are issued.

Area Residents Oppose Permit For Junk Yard

A petition of protest by residents of Bowman's Addition about the issuance of a permit for the operation of a junk yard was among routine matters considered yesterday morning during a meeting of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

The residents are protesting the issuance of a permit to Clarence McCarthy, who applied for it on April 12. The matter had been referred to J. Walker Chapman, county roads supervisor, for investigation.

In other matters, D. W. Martin of Mt. Savage, who submitted a bid of $600 for the purchase of the old Mt. Savage School and ground on which it was built, complained to the commissioners that garbage has been dumped on the property and a quantity of pipe has been removed from the building.

The commissioners authorized preparation of "no trespassing" signs and authorized Constable Andrew Lennox to post them on the property.

A motion was unanimously passed by the commissioners authorizing Mr. Chapman to begin work on a road along the property of the Mapelhurst Golf Club in the Frostburg area.

Attorney James Getty representing the club, pointed out the organization would pay the cost of labor, material and equipment for the road project.

The monthly roads department report was submitted. Commissioner C. N. Wilkinson reported that loose shale was falling on Mason Road and should be cleaned up.

Johnson Heights PTA Will Hold Festival

Entertainment for the evening will be provided by the Fort Hill Junior Band and the twirling group will perform. Dancing will conclude the evening's events.

Housing Project Site

Desolation marks the site selected for Cumberland's third public housing project in an area bounded by Oldtown Road, Thomas Street, Cresap Street and Hemlock Alley. Many of the abandoned houses on the site had been torn down when a conflict developed with plans of the State Roads Commission for the Cumberland Thruway. Plans for the approach overlaps one 20-dwelling unit of the housing development. Work on the housing site was halted while the conflict is being ironed out.

Flower Show To Feature Miniature Button Display

One of the unusual attractions of the Fourth Annual Community Flower Show of the Cumberland Garden Club to be held next Monday and Tuesday will be a miniature button arrangement by Mrs. L. J. Auker.

The show will be held at the Eagles home on North Mechanic Street. Show hours will be 3 to 10

p. m. Monday and noon to 6 p. m. on Tuesday.

Area Recreation Facilities Are Being Readied

Recreation areas in Western Maryland and other parts of the state, maintained by the Department of State Forests and Parks, are now being readied for the thousands of visitors who annually use the facilities for outdoor summer fun and relaxation.

William H. Johnson, district forester, said extra employees have been hired and are getting the cottages ready for occupancy this summer.

Trash barrels are getting a new coat of paint and repair work is being done at picnic facilities. Workmen are also connecting water supply systems which were drained prior to last winter's freezing temperatures.

About mid-June, with the opening of the swimming season, lifeguards will be on duty at Herrington Manor and New Germany. Mr. Johnson said the positions are filled by college and high school students qualified in senior Red Cross lifesaving.

During the spring, temporary employees are hired by the Department of Forests and Parks and they work during the fire danger period and also during the tree planting time.

Some of these part-time employees also do cleanup work at the recreation areas. Mr. Johnson pointed out that funds to pay the salaries of temporary employees come out of a Forest Reserve Fund and not from the general fund.

The reserve fund is realized from proceeds of timber sales and the payment for use of recreation area facilities such as cabins.

Oldtown 4-H Will Meet

The reorganization of the Oldtown Senior 4-H Boys Club will be discussed this evening during a meeting at 7:30 at the home of Clifford B. Sisler Post 9451, Veterans of Foreign Wars in Oldtown.

James B. Arnold, assistant farm agent of Allegany County, who is in charge of 4-H work, indicated yesterday that Noah Carder will be leader for the organization. This is the first such meeting of the group for some time and efforts are being made to reorganize it.

Persons of the Oldtown area between the ages of 14 and 21 who are interested in 4-H Club work are invited to attend tonight's meeting. Mr. Arnold said a Junior 4-H Boys Club, comprised of seventh and eighth graders of Oldtown School, is active at the present time. John Snyder is leader of the group.

Executive Meeting Planned By Firemen

An executive meeting of the Maryland State Firemen's Association will be held Sunday at 10:30 a. m. at LaVale Fire Hall.

Philip Beard of Walkersville, president of the association, will be in charge of the business meeting. Members of the Ladies Auxiliary unit of the host company will serve a dinner to officers and members.

This will be the final meeting of the association prior to the convention in Ocean City June 19, 20 and 21.

Board Approves Garden Club Members To Attend Show

Ten members of the Cumberland Garden Club plan to attend the fourth annual flower show of the fifth district of the Federated Garden Clubs of Maryland today in Frederick.

He and Dombrosky, who was the father of nine children, once worked together at Bethlehem Steel Company where Dombrosky was employed at the time of his death.

Captain Bowen said the sewer search was conducted on the basis of additional information furnished police by Cook. Cook was described in police testimony at a preliminary hearing Monday as a friend of Mr. Dombrosky.

In Central Police Court Monday, police charged Cook of shooting Dombrosky, with a stolen gun he had tried to sell his victim.

Sgt. Charles Ploch, of homicide, said Cook offered to sell the gun for $10 and Dombrosky pulled out his wallet, then said, "No, I can't use it."

Grabbed Wallet "The boy snatched the wallet," Sergeant Ploch said. "Dombrosky went for it and that's when Cook shot him."

Sergeant Ploch gave the police version of the shooting at Cook's arraignment before Chief Magistrate Meyer M. Cardin. He said it was based on information received from the defendant.

Magistrate Cardin held Cook without bail on the homicide charge for a preliminary hearing to be set by the State's attorney. Cook also is charged with stealing a .45-caliber automatic in July from the owner of a tavern in the 500 block South Bouldin street.

Cook was arrested at 2 a. m. Saturday at his home in the 500 block East Avenue, the block in which Dombrosky was killed. The arrest was made less than three hours after the shooting.

Contract Talks Halt At Keyser Emerson-Pryne

Negotiations between representatives of the union and management at the Emerson-Pryne Company plant at Keyser, W. Va., broke down yesterday after the union made two counter-proposals and management stood firm on a wage question. At a 4 p. m. meeting of the union, a strike vote was taken and the plant is strikebound.

Paul Ashby, president of Local 1830, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (AFL-CIO), said union and plant officials met at 10 a. m. yesterday and bargained until 12:30 p. m. At this session, he said, the union dropped its demand of 16 cents an hour increase this year and another 16 cents an hour next year for a two-year contract, to 14 cents an hour increase the first year, and 12 cents an hour increase the second year.

A second session was called for the afternoon and at this meeting, the company rejected the union's new proposal and stood firm on its six cents an hour offer, Mr. Ashby said. The union then made its final request for 12 cents an hour across the board and a one-year contract. The company refused this proposal, he said. No time was set for any future sessions.

Wallet Of Slain Man Recovered In Baltimore

Dombrosky's Cards, Papers Are Found

The missing wallet of Eugene F. Dombrosky, 41, former resident who was shot to death Friday in Baltimore, was recovered Monday night from a sewer just two blocks from where the victim was slain.

Capt. Elmer Z. Bowen, of the Eastern District, reported that a number of sewers were opened and searched by police before the wallet was found at Eastern Avenue and Clinton Street.

The wallet, Captain Bowen reported, did not contain any money, but was filled with the murdered man's identification cards and personal papers.

Held Without Bail

Meanwhile, according to an Associated Press dispatch, Raymond Clifford Cook, 21, is being held without bail on a homicide charge in the slaying.

Boy Scouts Plant 1,000 Evergreens

Boy Scouts of two local troops planted over 1,000 evergreen trees Saturday in reforestation projects on Shriver's Hill and in Constitution Park.

In efforts to add to the beauty of the city in the conservation plan, six Boy Scouts of Troop 13, sponsored by First Presbyterian Church, planted 500 trees along an area of Shriver's Hill which recently was burned in a brush fire.

The work was supervised by William H. Johnson, district forester, Harry F. Mills Jr., scoutmaster, and Thomas Hollingsworth, Explorer advisor.

Red pine and spruce were planted by Jerry Detrick, Terry Detrick, Mark Lazarus, David Cope, Raymond Lockard, and Charles Mulligan.

A section of Constitution Park near the ball field was stocked with 750 pine trees by members of Explorer Post 17, Boy Scouts, sponsored by the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company plant.

Brooke Bodkin, senior forester, and Robert Moyer, post advisor, were in charge of the tree planting by Terry Bolinger, George Fogle, Sammy Biller and Russell Campbell.

The trees were provided by the State Department of Forests and Parks. The project on Shriver's Hill was planned by the agricultural conservation committee of the Cumberland Kiwanis Club.

Mr. Johnson pointed out that last year Troop 13 members had planted a number of trees on Shriver's Hill but in the recent fire many of them were destroyed. The scorched area was reforested on Saturday.
